This program makes three anonymous functions: f1, f2, and f3.

F1 takes one parameter & raises it to the power of 2
F2 uses the idivide function, and rounds some division result towards 0
F3 checks if the two parameters entered are not the same

A new function is created, called F4, that uses all of these functions mentioned, along with two other values.